RECENT WASHINGTON HOSPITALITY

Gossip Forming the Connecting Link These Days.

OTHER TIMELY TOPICS

The activity in the matrimonial market which has been such a marked feature of this month, will continue throughout its last days, and also start the last month of the autumn with the same material for pleasant talk. Miss Laura Leggett Seynour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albert Seymour, and Mr. Charles Benjamin Doolittle will be married Monday at the family residence, 1337 Connecticut avenue Miss Ethel Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Cotton, and Mr. Frederick William Carlisle of Montclair, N. J., will at Trinity Church Wednesday evening,

Francis Hupp Miller will be united. A small reception will follow, at which the intimate friends will be entertained. Miss Helen Prentiss Donohue and Mr Herbert Lindsay Deyo of St. Louis will be married also on Wednesday evening. A reception will follow. Miss Mayme Wallace

Dickey will be the maid of honor and Mr. Charles McGingan will be best man. The ushers will be J. Barton Miller, Harry P. Merritt, William H. Hardesty and Guy V. Collins

Pending the homecoming of many o those who figure most prominently when all Vanity Fair is gathered, arise the ru-mors of engagements and other strong material for gossip which pass the leisure of this season very acceptably. If it were not for this, there would scarcely be any not for this, there would scarcely be any topic worthy discussion, excepting always the autumnal housecleaning which is going on in nearly every house entered just at present. This enjoyment beloved of women folks and hated by men takes precedence at the moment, even ahead of that other mighty problem—clothes. There seems to be more newcomers among the housekeepers this fall than usual, and the interest which the presence of so great a quantity of untried forces should exert gives the approaching winter an unusual bearing. It will be dull enough here for the next three or four weeks, so far as the majority in society is concerned, but after that the days and nights will present a program full of charming variety.

Lord and Lady Pauncefote have delayed their departure from England for a while and in the meantime has been cabled the engagement of Miss Lillian Pauncefote to Mr. Charles Bromley, honorary secretary to the British embassy here. The chances are, though, that the wedding will be delayed till the return of the family to England next year. and next year.

Ex-Secretary and Mrs. John W. Foster are enjoying at present a visit from their respective mothers, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. McPherson. The ladies came from Indiana this week, and, while both are in advanced years, are nevertheless able to go about and especially to be interested in the long country drives, so pleasant these fine days. The fourth generation, too, is represented at present in the Foster home by the presence of little Eleanor Dulles, daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Dulles, who is making her grandparents a visit. Ex-Secretary and Mrs. John W. Foster her grandparents a visit.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Green of

The marriage of Miss Minnie Green of Tenleytown to Mr. Maurice Millard, formerly of Boston, now of Laurel, took place at St. Alban's Episcopal Church Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. G. C. F. Bratenhal. The bridal party was met at the church door by the vested choir, which preceded them to the chancel, singing "Oh. Perfect Love." The bride was attired in white organdie elaborately trimmed with white satin bands and chiffon. Her veil was held in place by a diamond ornament and white rosebuds. Her bouquet was of white rosebuds with long white quet was of white rosebuds with long white streamers. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Amanda Queen, becomingly at-tired in white organdie. Mr. Vincent Cay-lor of Virginia was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Arthur Howe and Ernest Donaidson. No reception followed, because of the recent death of the bride's brother. A musicale was given at the residence of Miss Nellie Burke Wednesday evening.
